You hold in your hand a fibril of the gyre of existence; a thread of fate, a strand of space time if you will. This fibril is a remnant of the broken threads of existence caused by the visitation of The Time Lord to test the newly reformed Knights of the Crux Ansata to see if they have the will and strength of character to assist him in his mission to prevent the Xorinite from collecting their 'souvenir' from our world.
